Welcome to UKAA,

the membership organisation for the burgeoning UK Build to Rent (BTR) industry.

We're on a mission to make BTR an industry of choice for property professionals and a lifestyle of choice for customers.

We are committed to growing BTR nationwide and our members' businesses faster than would happen otherwise through sharing high quality knowledge, promoting best practice and raising standards to benefit customers.

UKAA activities help reduce risks for investors, developers and operators and assist providers of services and products to enter and operate successfully in the BTR market.

Our members are creating the rental communities of today and tomorrow. Join us in shaping the future of BTR.

Brendan Geraghty, UKAA CEO

Why join the UKAA?

The UKAA is the authority on BTR in the UK and our membership share in this high value knowledge.

Our members are drawn from investors and lenders, developers and operators, and all those designing, delivering and supplying BTR homes. Our role is to provide leadership and support to our members as they add value to this dynamic sector.

Brand awareness

Low cost, high value opportunity for you to get your name out there and make connections.

High quality audience

As a UKAA member you are associated with the high quality knowledge agenda and those that align with it.

Industry leadership

We value your insight and experience, position yourself in the role of thought leadership within the industry.

Where can you find us?
